'Tis the season to be creative

INTRO:

Let's celebrate mistakes as hidden gems of inspiration as you venture into artistic serendipity, where spills and stains transform into masterpieces waiting to be discovered.

Imagine you're sipping your favourite festive cuppa, and suddenly a little spill occurs. Instead of fretting, we challenge you to embrace the unexpected and turn that mishap into something extraordinary. Mistakes can be the stepping stones to creation and the unexpected twists can bring joy to your creative endeavours. This could help you break free from the usual creative routines.

ACTIVITY:

We've provided some spills on the next page. Print this out to use the spills as your creative catalyst, or grab a cuppa and make your own!

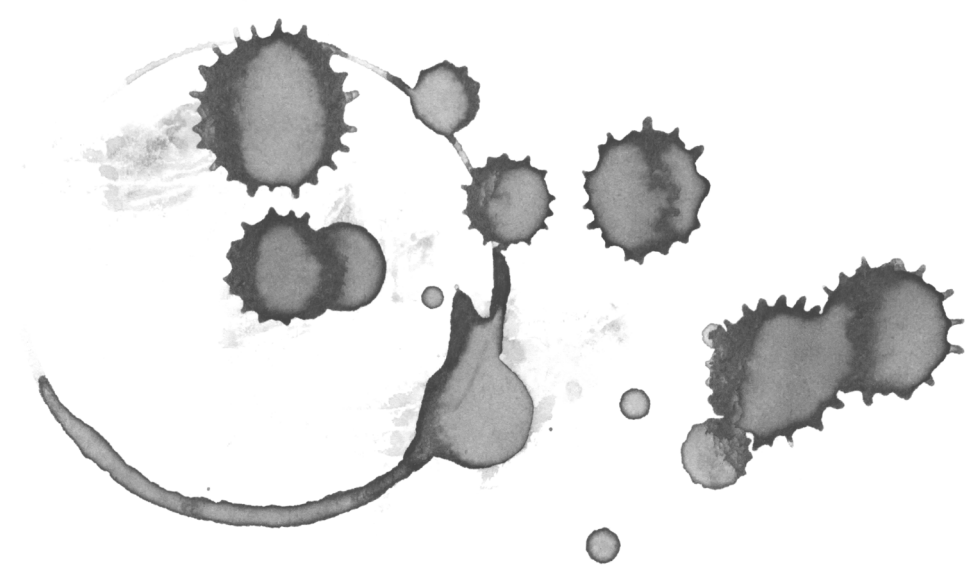

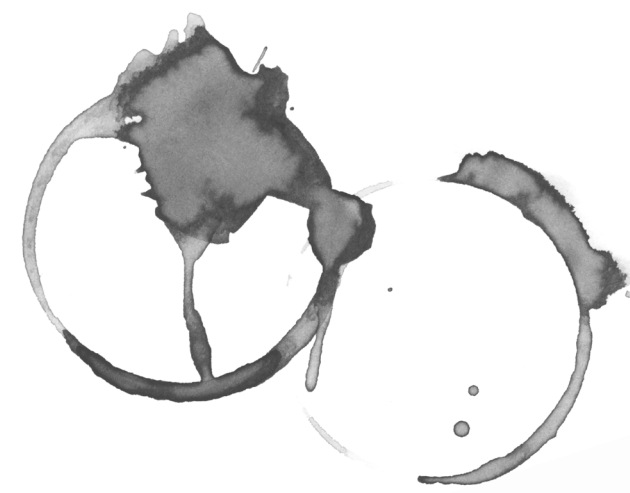

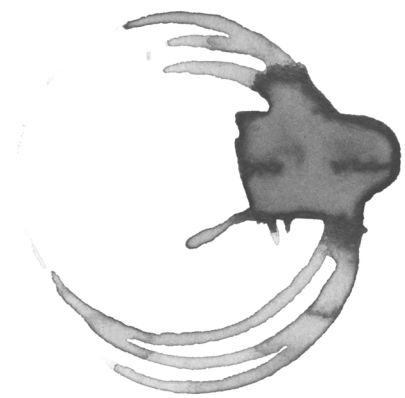

Draw around a spill or stain. Let your creativity transform the seemingly random shape into a work of art, character or creature. Look at contours, curves and patterns and figure out how to incorporate the spill(s) into your artwork to turn them into cohesive parts of your creation.

THIS HELPS:

- Embrace mistakes
- Break free from creative routines
- Sharpen problem-solving skills
- Make visual connections and see possibilities
